

Elizabeth (Liz) Wager is the author of books on ‘Getting Research Published: An A to Z of Publication Strategy’ and ‘How to Survive Peer Review’.

She is a co-author of Good Publication Practice for Pharmaceutical Companies (2003), the European Medical Writers Association guidelines on the role of medical writers (2005), the Blackwell Best Practice Guidelines on Publication Ethics (2006), and Cochrane systematic reviews on the effects of peer review and technical editing.

After a zoology degree from Oxford she joined Blackwell Scientific Publications as an editor. She then moved to the pharmaceutical industry (working for Janssen-Cilag as a medical writer then Glaxo-Wellcome as Head of International Medical Publications). She set up her own company, Sideview, in 2001 providing training, writing, editing and publication consultancy services.

She has run training courses for doctors, journal editors and medical writers on five continents (including courses in China, Uganda, South Africa, Australia, the USA and all around Europe).

She is a member of:

- the BMJ's Ethics Committee (which considers ethical issues relating to the journal),
- the World Association of Medical Editors (WAME) Ethics Committee (which provides advice on cases submitted by medical journal editors),
- the Council of the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE),
- the editorial boards of European Science Editing (the journal of EASE: the European Association of Science Editors) and Medscape General Medicine,
- the CONSORT statement group and CONSORT for abstracts steering group
- and the WHO Scientific Advisory Group on trial registration.
